PLANTING AND CULTURE

All rock plants require firm planting, good drainage, and stone chips over the surface of the soil and under the foliage. The rare and diminutive types of alpine should have a section to themselves to prevent the encroachment of plants of a more robust or rampant nature. Most alpine should be cut back after the blooming period is past which will ensure a second bloom in many species. While not absolutely necessary, a light covering of salt hay should be placed over the rock garden in winter in climates where cold frosty winds prevail and there is no protecting blanket of snow. In spring a top dressing of sand and leaf soil is very beneficial, adding lime for plants which require it.

IDEAL ROCK GARDEN LABELS

IDEAL Labels make permanent markers. The flag is pyralin, waterproof. The staff is aluminum, non rusting, soft enough to bend as desired. Write name with soft lead pencil. Rain or soil will not smudge. May be erased with a rubber. When set close to plants, wire staff will not injure roots. These labels are not heaved out of ground by winter freeze.
